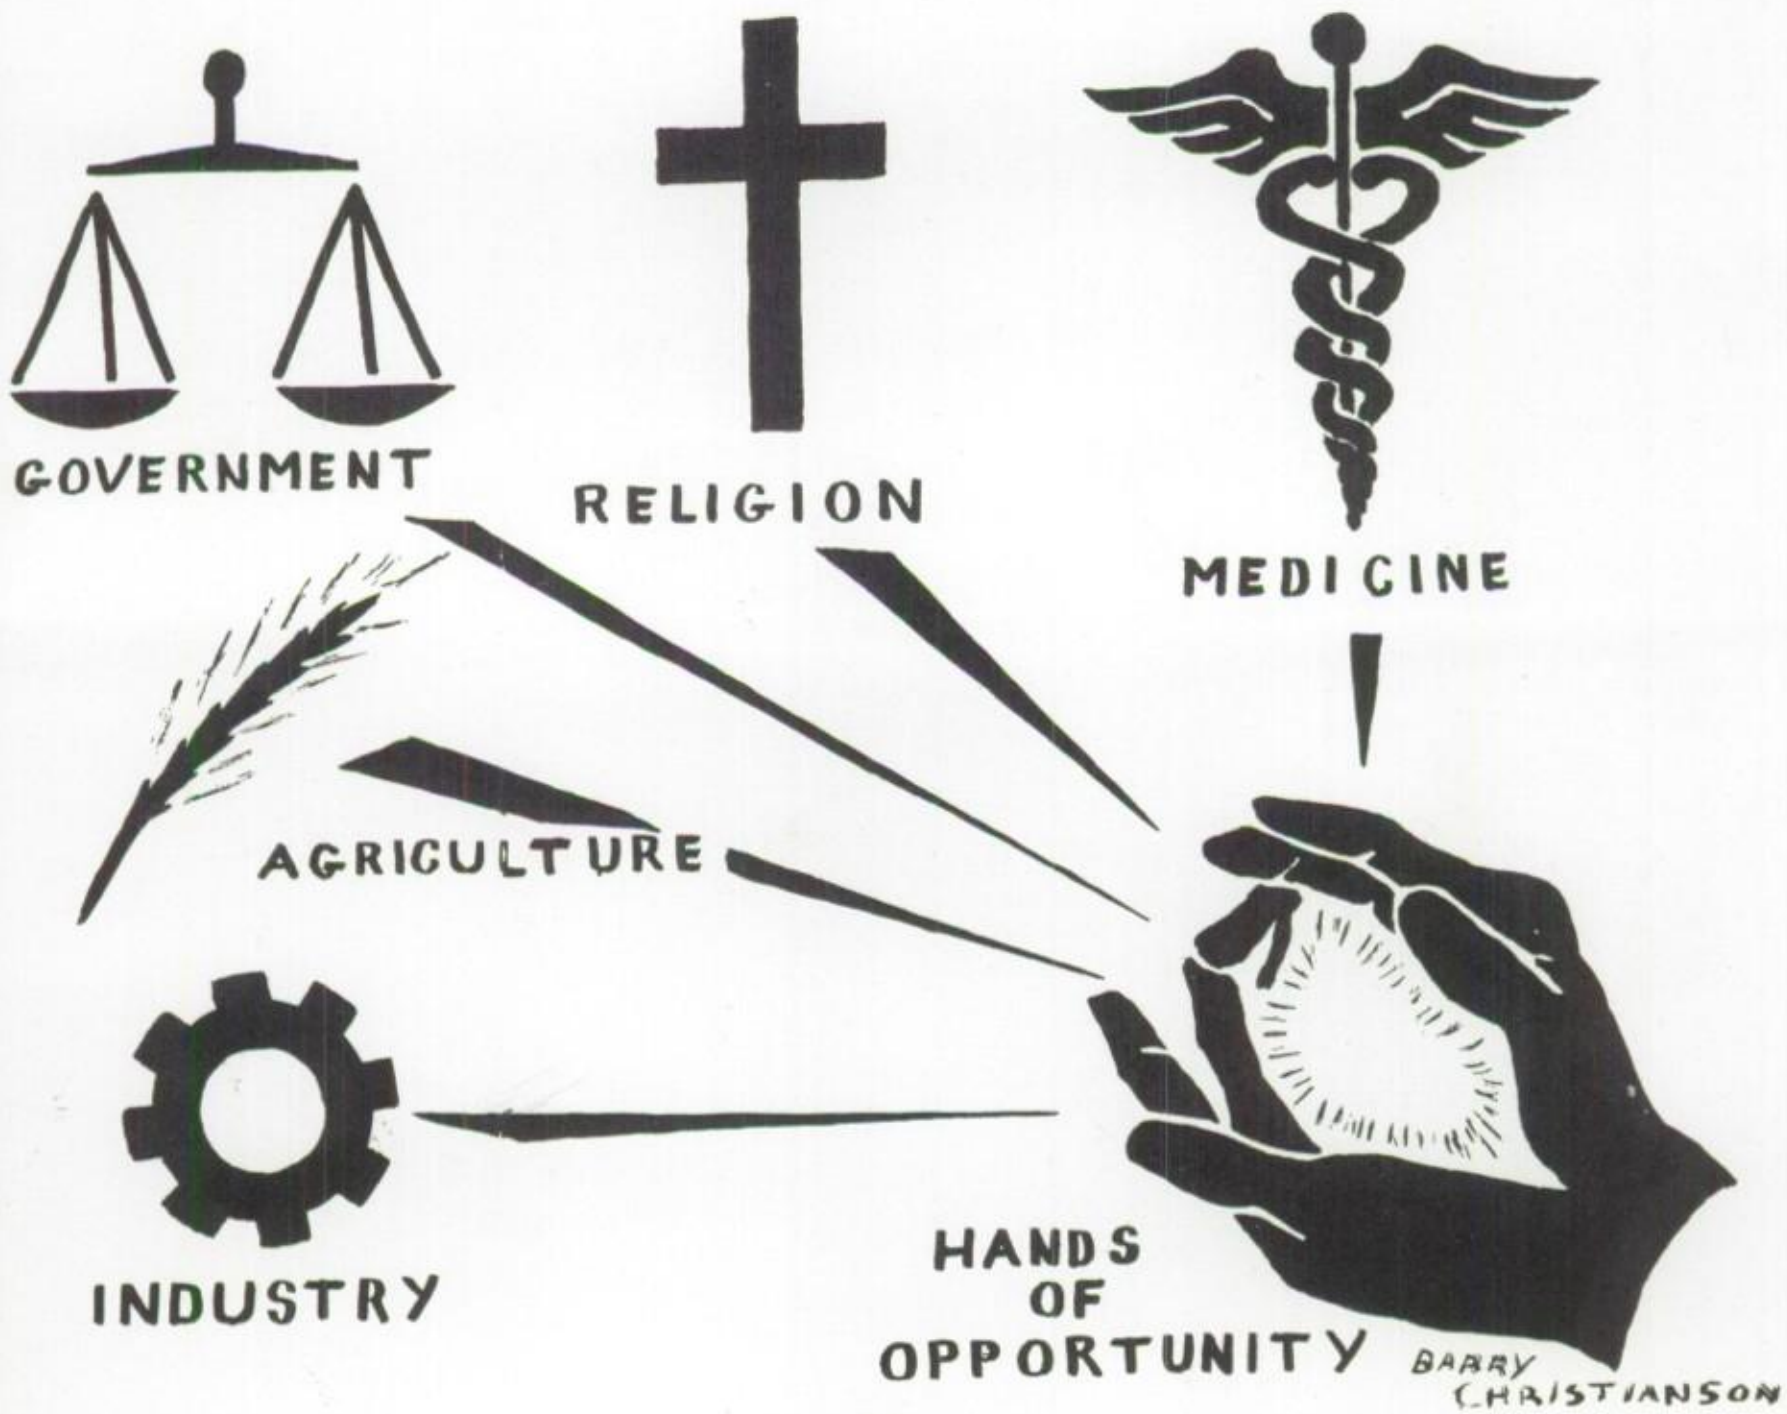
CLASS ODE

The final hour is drawing near
The time is soon to come
When we shall part and leave behind
Our dear old Stonington.

Although we go our separate ways
Each one of us will find
The things we learned, the fun we shared
Will linger in our minds.

No matter where life's road may lead
Our duty we'll not shun
And filled with gratitude we bid
Farewell to Stonington.

Mary Anne Cowell



CLASS HISTORY

We, as Seniors, can now meander down memory lane and enjoy again our wonderful times at Stonington High School. As a class we have shared our hopes and disappointments, our victories and our losses, our problems and our ideals. Together these have been the most marvelous years of our lives.

FRESHMAN YEAR

It was with a certain amount of awe mixed with apprehension that we took our first wobbly steps on the path which would lead us through four of the most momentous years of our lives. To guide us while taking these first cautious steps, we elected as our class officers: President, William Previty; Vice President, Hugh McGee; Secretary, Carol Johnson; and Treasurer, Valerie Simon. Presenting our school problems to the upperclassmen were our Student Council representatives, Alice Flagg, Donna Victoria, Dennis Dwyer, and Charles Ferguson.

Our first class endeavor in the field of entertainment was "Around the World in Eighty Days." This vast collection of talent from around the world, assembled by George Monsam, disclosed to the school that the Freshman class was indeed a class of talent, ingenuity, and originality.

The Freshman Party presented an opportunity to become better acquainted with our fellow classmates and to meet our future companions from Pawcatuck Junior High School.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

This year brought many new classmates and many friends, for we were joined by the students from the Pawcatuck area. To lead our class we again chose for President, William Previty. To assist him were Vice President, George Rathbun; Secretary, Carol Johnson; and Treasurer, Mary Anne Cowell. To represent us on the Student Council we selected Kathleen Delaney, Rose Pampel, Donna Victoria, Dennis Dwyer, George Monsam, and George Rathbun.

With the experience of a past theatrical performance and the additional talent in our class, we enjoyed a gala holiday at a rustic ski lodge in the Northern mountains. Robert Hopkins and Ronald Greene were the amiable hosts who discovered the varied talents of their guests. Our other social endeavor for our Sophomore year was the memorable Sophomore Hop.

After weeks of grueling practice and aching muscles, seven girls were rewarded for their efforts by being selected as cheerleaders. Kathleen Delaney, Diane Faulise, Judith Lawrence, Margaret Otto, Rose Pampel, Lucina Schackner, and captain, Alice Flagg have helped increase the school spirit during our losses and celebrated with us during our many victories. Sharing the sports spotlight with the cheerleaders were the boys who were awarded their letters: Natale Ballato, Dennis Dwyer, Andrew Fabricant, Ronald Greene, William Previty, and George Rathbun.

JUNIOR YEAR

Once again we entered Stonington High School but with the realization that now we were becoming the leaders of our school. To guide us towards this goal were our officers: President, William Previty; Vice President, Carol Johnson; Secretary, Linda Higgins; and Treasurer, Mary Anne Cowell. To aid us in our endeavor were our Student Council representatives, Diane Faulise, Carol Johnson, Linda Smith, Dennis Dwyer, and Ronald Greene. Elected to the vice presidency was Hugh McGee.

The Junior Talent Show under the excellent leadership of Ronald Greene displayed our varied talents to the school.

The scholastic honor of becoming members of the National Honor Society was bestowed upon several members of our class. They were Elizabeth Duch, Joanne Francis, Linda Higgins, Carol Johnson, Harriet Kemp, Linda Smith, Carol Thomas, Ronald Greene, Donald Hildebrand, Hugh McGee, and William Previty.

Outstanding in the field of athletics were Natale Ballato, Kenneth Banks, Michael Crowley, James DeFosse, Dennis Dwyer, Andrew Fabricant, James Foberg, Ronald Greene, Clinton Holland, Frederick Inglesby, Douglas Joseph, Charles McNeil, David Pacheco, Frank Prachniak, William Previty, George Rathbun, and Richard Sylvestre.

The mysterious and enchanting Oriental paradise of Shangri-La was a romantic setting for our Junior Prom. Donna Victoria and Dennis Dwyer were the capable co-chairmen of this unforgettable event. Beneath an arc of roses, th crown was gently placed upon the head of the radiant queen, Donna Victoria, while her court, consisting of Mary Anne Cowell, Kathleen Delaney, JoAnn Everett, Alice Flagg, Susan McLaughlin, and Linda Smith looked on. There was a moment of sadness as we realized that this would be the last event of our Junior year and that we had achieved our ultimate goal, that of being Seniors.

SENIOR YEAR

For the last time we elected our class officers. Under the capable leadership of William Previty for three years, we again elected him President of our class. For Vice President we chose George Rathbun; Secretary, Linda Higgins; and Treasurer, Mary Anne Cowell. As our final Student Council representatives we elected Hugh McGee, President; Carol Johnson, Secretary-treasurer; Linda Higgins, Glenda Wilcox, Ronald Greene and Michael Crowley.

The Senior Talent Show handled capably by the co-chairmen, Margaretellen Christina and Ronald Greene, was the finest performance of our talented classmates. Continuing in the successful manner of previous years, our Senior Party and the Senior Prom, under the co-chairmanship of Mary Jo Vargas and Natale Ballato, were occasions never to be forgotten.

Our outstanding athletic teams headed by their captains — George Rathbun, football; Michael Crowley, basketball and baseball; and Dennis Dwyer, track — were extremely victorious.

Our literary achievements — the Brown and White and the Pawmystonian — were competently managed by their respective editors, Linda Smith and Hugh McGee.

The pleasurable moments of our Washington trip will linger in our memories. Who will forget the tour of Washington, the romantic boat trip down Chesapeake Bay, or the hotel parties?

Sharing in all these memories will be Mr. Donald Robinson, our understanding and capable class advisor.

With the realization that our high school days were quickly coming to a close, we thoroughly enjoyed the special days set aside for the Seniors — Flunk Day and Class Day. Finally, Commencement Day has arrived and we will remember our four years at Stonington High School forever. Sadness prevails now, but soon pride for our school will overcome this and lead us on to greater heights.

1961 CLASS PROPHECY

TIME: 1980

PLACE: Outer Space

How different it was back in 1961 when our famous class left S.H.S.! So many things have changed: rockets have taken the place of planes, whole new races have been discovered, and interplanetary travel has become common.

We, as a class can be proud of the contributions our members have made toward these great achievements.

We are now standing near the launching pad at the Interplanetary Missile Base. Gary Wilbur, chief pilot, and his co-pilot, Billy Belle, are ready to take off for the Venus base. The stewardesses, Valerie Simon and Joan Taylor, are welcoming the passengers on board. Brenda Ireland, Irene Allen, and Margaret Lynch seem quite nervous, but Ernie Anderson and Tommy Ng are giving them moral support. Joe Almeida, Robert Martin, and John Rogers are busy making last minute checks on the engines, and Donald Hildebrand is giving takeoff instructions to the pilot. The last passengers to board are Rose Holdridge and Eileen Scheller.

Down in the control room are Richard Canavan, Pat McKenna, Hugh McGee, Byron Dyer, and Richard Collins. Assisting them with communications are Philip Danforth, Bill Fain, Donald Hetherington, and Douglas Joseph. Over the intercom we hear Jimmy Foberg announcing the departure. Whew! What a blast!

To welcome us to Venus are our former classmates Carole Johns, Mary Ellen Mahoney, Claudia Santos, and Sharon Radicioni. Walking over to the terminal, we catch sight of Jimmy DeFosse, John Graves, and Nick Reardon sitting in the Cockpit, the pilot hangout. Serving them coffee are Sally Beresford, Diane Sisson, and Sharon Barstow.

To officially greet us is Charles McNeil, Mayor; along with Charles Ferguson, Police Commissioner, Frank Prackniak, Fire Commissioner, and Fred Ingelsby, Justice of the Peace.

These high officials have a good reason to be proud: the building crew is now working on the Robinson Memorial Building, erected in honor of our class advisor, Mr. Donald Robinson. The chief electricians are Francis Levanti, Jimmy Robinson, John Ball, and Arthur Burnham. Working with them are Tommy Gingerella, Cliff Fee, John Joseph, Gary King, and Ronald Bray. Over to the right, large electric drills are being manned by Bernard Ball, Jamie Brown, Mike Bruno, and Bruce Geyer. We also see Thomas Cook, Richard Steele, Doug Rose, and Charles Podzaline inside the workhouse laying plans.

Leaving the airport, we find ourselves being pushed and jostled into a large gymnasium by a crowd of excited sports fans. We are shoved right past the ticket takers, Robert Whitehead and Edward Larkin. Through a side door, we see Eddie McHorney teaching a class of prospective musclemen. The mighty yells of the coaches, Alice Flagg, Linda Smith, Mike Crowley, and George Rathburn, turn our attention to the main part of the gym. Through the maze of spectators in front of us, we see the stars of the show, Nat Ballato, Dennis Dwyer, Richard Sylvestre, Andy Fabricant, Dave Pacheco, Bill Previty, and Eddie Simoncini practicing their football plays. A flash of speed, and the crowd is being led in wild cheers by Judy Lawrence, Midge Otto, Lucina Schackner, Kathleen Delaney, Rose Pampel, and Diane Faulise.

After the games, the teams and their loyal fans get together at the Comet Drive-in Restaurant. Swiftly taking orders are Doug Kelliher, Charlie Tattersall, Janet Roessler, and Chris Molloy.

As the afternoon goes on, we find ourselves visiting the United Solar Hospital. The receptionists, Claire Kenyon, Barbara Fish, and Joanne Francis, are on hand to greet us. As we walk up the corridor, we see Barbara Dimock, Joanne Blanda, and Barbara Southworth busily tending to their many duties. Up in the laboratory are Gail Chesebro, Helen McShane, Carol Thomas, and Toni Panciera looking over some specimens. Down in the basement working busily on drawings to be used in the hospitality room are Glenda Wilcox, Carol Johnson, Donna Victoria, Ann Keller, and Muriel Winchester.

Out in the street again, we decide to take a further view of the town. Over in the Beauty Shop are Paula Broxy, Marie Gouvin, Virginia Chiappone, and Linda Melaragno creating news-making hair styles. Helping them are Pauline Davis, Evelyn Kain, and Marilyn Ferguson.

Calling us from the Venus Dress and Accessory Shop are Mary Anne Cowell, Bernita Bottone, Sandra Krucinski, and Kathy Bryer. In the window Rosemary Ferrigno, Sara Loutrel, and Beverly Williams are arranging displays.

Next, we make a last minute dash to the newspaper office. In the front office Sheila Spellman, Patricia Altimari, and Mary Ellen Miller quickly wave "hello." In the back Mary Jo Vargas is giving out rush assignments. Ready with pen and pencil are Ruth Lussier, Pamela Lord, Elizabeth Harland, Joyce Frenette, and Harriet Kemp. Busy making headlines are Margaret Skarrow, and Brian Watts.

Going out to the Astronaut Automat we join Geri Moniz, Veronica Brodasky, Harriet Fenton, Roberta Atkins, Ann Mudge, and Carol Groppelli for a coffee break. Behind the counter are Bruce McDonough, Ernie Lewis, and Tom D'Amico, who were overjoyed to see us.

In honor of our visit the Entertainment Committee planned a farewell dinner and dance at the Space Grotto. The lights are set, the music starts, and George Smith, the emcee, introduces the first act of the evening. Loud applause echoes as Barry and Bruce Christianson accompany Karen Reay and Joann Everett for a lively number. Next Elaine Avery, Margaretellen Christina, Betty Duch, Sandra Nichols, Roberta Wheeler, Judy Tourville, and Jennifer Dodge take the stage, enchanting us with their singing of our old favorites. Mood music is expertly played by the Clint Holland Band consisting of Alan Grzyb, Aldeane Reed, Hugh McGee, and Dennis Thornton. To make the evening complete, John Maloney, Kenneth Banks, Mary Lou Rebello, and John Plante dedicate their song to us.

Twelve o'clock and time to leave. We arrive at the airport just in time to see the rocket ship piloted by Bruce Clachrie and Jimmy Lathrop land. On board are Gerry Patnoad, Robert Banker, Cecelia Bramon, Billie Levine, Ann Furness, Susan LaFond, and Chester Zeeman.

Rushing to meet the ship are star-reporters: Sharon Cole, Maureen Mitchell, John Fontaine, and Celsa Cota. Passing the training center, we watch Robert Savage and Bobby Panceira giving instructions to the new maintenance crew.

As we board our ship, we are greeted by our daring pilots, Ronnie Greene and Dana Vigue. We were not surprised to see Linda Higgins, Marilyn Curtin, and Judy Gobeille wave gaily from the rear.

Our history-making trip is over and we head for new explorations.

Yes, this has been purely fictional, but we wonder if it ever really will come true for the class of 1961.

WASHINGTON CLUB

The Washington Club is an organization composed of seniors who want to visit our nation's capital. The trip is made during the Spring vacation and covers six days. Its three objectives are education, recreation and liveability.

The first is attained by visits to the White House, U.S. Capitol to observe Congress in action, Smithsonian Institute, Bureau of Printing and Engraving, F.B.I., Arlington National Cemetery, Mount Vernon, Naval Academy, Pan American Union, Episcopal Cathedral, Franciscan Monastery, and many other places of interest.

The students have their moments of fun, too. They spend time at Glen Echo Amusement Park and on a moonlight sail down the Potomac River. Another highlight is an indoor swimming pool. A jam session in the hotel rumpus room also adds to their entertainment.

The third objective means much to all who attend. They really get to know their classmates through a week's living with them. They learn hotel decorum and dining room manners; punctuality becomes a habit, and they make many new friends from all over the United States. These few glimpses of a typical Washington trip reveal why seniors look forward to it as a highlight of their four years at Stonington High School.

CHORUS AND BAND

During 1960-61 the music department enjoyed a most successful year. The chorus, under the direction of Mr. Harry S. Lawton, presented two major concerts, one at Christmas and the other, the gala Spring Festival Concert, in May.

The "Story of Christmas" was presented in cantata form, with seven student soloists. The chorus of 125 voices and the full band, directed by Mr. Matthew F. Grzyb, brought the program to a stirring climax.

The Spring Concert featured a combination of singing and dancing in a section of the program entitled "My America." The thirty dancers were coached by Miss Florence Thavenet.

Prominent in both concerts were the Keynotes. This group of 15 girls had an excellent year, for in addition to appearances at S.H.S. functions, they also gave two sold-out programs in conjunction with the Westerly Singers, and a joint program with the S.H.S. Band at Pawcatuck Junior High School.

In addition to this concert and the one at Christmas, the band gave a most successful April program. Band members played at all local football games and took part in several parades in the Stonington area. The group also appeared at the University of Connecticut Band Day, at which the new majorette made her first public appearance.

Both band and chorus had a good representation at the Connecticut All-State Festival. Five band members and nine choristers were selected by the panel of judges, giving Stonington one of the largest attending groups.

With the band receiving a high rating in the Connecticut Audition Festival and the chorus being represented by twelve members at the New England Music Festival in Rutland, Vermont, the year proved to be a full and inspiring one, long to be remembered by all who took part in these activities.

TEACHERS' APPRECIATION DAY

FACULTY TEA

"Not too much, Mr. Foley."

For several years the Student Council has sponsored a Teachers' Appreciation Day during National Education Week. Started three years ago at the suggestion of a Council member, this idea has become an annual event, with committees of Student Council members planning and organizing it. The entire student body co-operates fully, coming to classes in their best attire and acting in the best of behavior. Each teacher is presented with a corsage or flower as a token of the students' appreciation, and after classes the entire faculty is served tea and refreshments by the Student Council. This year's activity was a complete success and received much publicity, as it is the only event of its kind in all the schools of this area.

FOOTBALL

The Bear gridders in 1960 enjoyed one of their finest years, compiling an impressive 7-1-1 record and capturing the Eastern Connecticut Conference championship.

The Bears opened their season with a 12-6 victory over North Kingstown. In the second game, Warren handed the Bears their only loss of the season. From then on, the Stonington High gridders had a string of five victories highlighted with impressive performances. The victims were Woodrow Wilson 12-6, Killingly 30-12, Waterford 38-22, Putnam 32-0, and Plainville 28-6.

The men in Brown and White continued the winning streak by defeating their arch-rival Westerly 32-12, on Veterans' Day. In the final game of the season, the Bears and Bulldogs played to a 6-6 tie.

Those who played their final game for Stonington were Captain George Rathbun, Bill Previty, Dennis Dwyer, Fred Ingelsby, Ron Greene, Nat Ballato, Frank Prachniak, Dick Sylvester, Ken Banks, Hugh McGee, Ed McHorney,. Dave Pacheco, Ed Simoncini, and Ron Bray. Other standouts throughout the season were Captain-elect Bob Dimock, Dud Wheeler, Wally Roderick, Dennis Donovan, and Ron Pont.

With returning lettermen plus the seasoned Junior Varsity and undefeated Freshman teams, the coaching staff headed by Woodrow Douville with the assistance of Donald Ostigny, Peter Young, and J. Richard Silva is anticipating another highly successful season.

VARSITY BASKETBALL 1960-1961

Hampered by the loss of many lettermen through graduation, the Stonington High cagers experienced a slow start. The Bears split their first ten games, registering victories over South Kingston, North Kingston, Valley Regional, and Killingly. They suffered defeats from Rogers, Westerly, and the Massachusetts Class C Champions, Silver Lake Regional. The loss of Captain Mike Crowley, who incurred a foot injury in the middle of the season, was a tough set-back to the Bears. Stonington High occasionally spurted throughout the remainder of the season, but failed to qualify for the state tournament. Second half victories included wins over St. Bernard's, Waterford, and Griswold.

Seniors who played their last game for the Bears were: Captain Michael Crowley, Andrew Fabricant, George Rathbun, William Previty, and Ronald Greene. Other standouts throughout the season were: Captain-elect David Erskine, James Higginbotham, Dudley Wheeler, Joseph Woycik, and Norman Holland.

With the return of four lettermen, plus an experienced Junior Varsity team, the Bears should have a winning season next year.

JUNIOR VARSITY 1960-1961

The Bear JV's directed by Coach J. Richard Silva enjoyed a successful season of 16 wins and 3 losses.

Providing the Bears with fine offensive and defensive efforts were Norm Holland, Howie Smith, Don Saffomila, Joe Muratore, and Bill Zembruski. With the experience gained this year many of the JV's will undoubtedly play important parts on next year's Varsity team.

TRACK 1961

Although the loss of some of Stonington's finest performers through graduation will definitely mean that the Bears will have to rebuild a solid team, the track squad, headed by Dennis Dwyer, will attempt to better the performances registered by last year's outstanding team.

Returning senior lettermen from last year are Dwyer, Frederick Ingelsby, and George Rathbun. Dwyer and Ingelsby performed very well in the dashes and shot-put. Rathbun, who placed third in the discus at the State Meet, is expected to score in the discus, high jump and broad jump. Others who should add additional strength are Robert Dimock in the pole vault and Dudley Wheeler in the javelin.

Coach Carlin will rely a great deal on his veteran performers. However, with the participation of underclassmen and newcomers, the Bears should make this season a successful one.

BASEBALL 1961

The prospects for the 1961 Baseball squad, with six lettermen returning from last year's State Championship team, appear very good. Coach Morris Fabricant looks forward to another highly successful season, building his squad around veteran performers Michael Crowley, Captain; Frank Prachniak, George Rathbun, Joseph Woycik, David Erskine, and James Higginbotham. With the addition of several promising underclassmen to fill out the team, Coach Morris Fabricant has high hopes of retaining the Eastern Connecticut Conference title and the Class M Championship.

The Bearettes are scheduled to meet Branford, Valley Regional, Griswold, East Greenwich, Academy of the Holy Family, the Alumnae and their archrival Westerly.

Miss Florence Thavenet coaches the team with the assistance of managers Margaretellen Christina, Linda Bailey, and Cynthia Vacca.

Linda Smith, Gail Chesebro, Alice Flagg, and JoAnn Blanda composed this year's excellent team. In competition, each girl played in a set of doubles against the other teams.

Second row: Edward Simonicini, Linda Smith, William Previty, Alice Flagg, George Rathbun, Dennis Dwyer, Gail Chesebro, Andrew Fabricant, Lucina Schackner, and Ronald Greene.
Third row: Clinton Holland, Hugh McGee, Rose Pampel, Diane Faulise, Judith Lawrence, Kathleen Delaney, Margaret Otto, Natale Ballato, Walter Roderick, Robert Dimock.

"S" CLUB

The "S" Club consists of all persons who have earned a letter in any sport in which they participated, and the seven senior cheerleaders.

Faculty advisors are Mr. Woodrow Douville, Mr. Morris Fabricant, and Miss Florence Thavenet.

Among the activities of the organization is the Alumni game and dance, for the purpose of raising money for the annual All-Sports Banquet. At the banquet, gold awards are given to seniors who participated in sports, and gold megaphones are awarded to the cheerleaders.

This year, plans were made to purchase a trophy case for the gym foyer, and also for the distribution of conference championship patches.

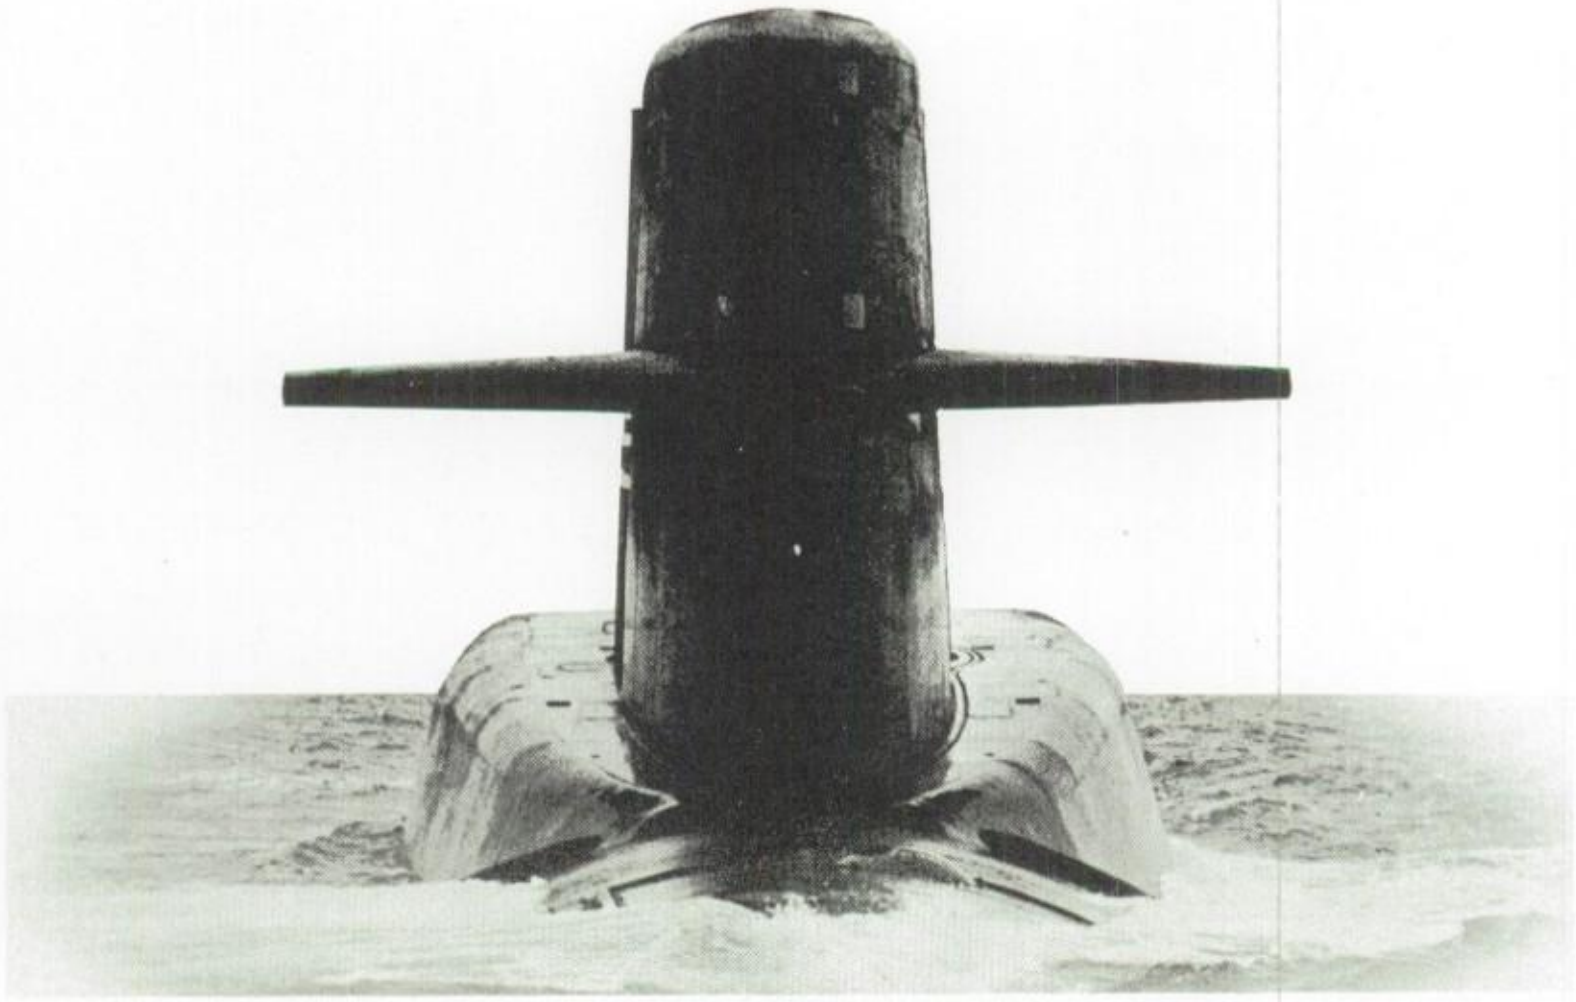
From New Power -- New Hope



The free world sleeps a little easier tonight.

For around the globe men who seek peace and men who would wage war know of the Fleet Ballistic Missile submarine — a mobile missile launching platform hidden in the depths of the oceans.

A truly significant addition to our nation's power, the Fleet Ballistic Missile submarine follows in the tradition of illustrious predecessors — Nautilus, Seawolf, Skate, Skipjack and Triton.

These vessels, designed and built by Groton shipbuilders, are products of the minds and hands of free men and women.

They sail proudly in the defense of freedom.

There's no glamour in Freddie.
His is no top hat-and-cane assignment.
But there's extreme importance to the work,

know full well

Pay the way with our practical Protected College Expense Plan

This sensible plan helps you meet the increased costs of giving your children the advantages of a college education. It's a plan tailored to you and your family's individual, special needs. Most important to you: You need only borrow for each year's expenses as they occur. You do not have to borrow for the whole four years in one lump sum.

The Connecticut Bank and Trust Company's Protected College Expense Plan may be used to cover costs of tuition, board and room, books, fees and other expenses—and it may also be used to cover expenses of private secondary school education, or of graduate work. Stop in soon at your nearest Connecticut Bank and Trust Company office. Ask one of our loan officers there to show you what this Plan can do for you.
